

On Saturday, March 22, the Apprentice School Students Association (ASSA) volunteered at Saint Paul's Episcopal Church, located on 34th street, to strip and wax the floors. Under the guidance of Randy Massie, who works at Ferguson, and Jack Adam, who works at NNS, the students used chemicals and a buffing machine to remove old wax and deposit a fresh coat of wax on the floors. Both Randy and Jack are affiliated with Saint Paul's Church and expressed extreme gratitude for the ASSA who were able to donate their time to improve the mezzanine.
